

Employee Notice at Collection

A Train Staffing is committed to supporting compliance with the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), the California Privacy Rights Act (CPRA) and other privacy laws which apply to certain employment data we collect. This Notice at Collection is intended to generally advise you of the types of personal information we collect, the intended purposes for which we use the information, whether the information is sold or shared, and the criteria used to determine how long we will retain the information.

We will not sell the personal information or sensitive personal information we collect about employees or job candidates. We will not share it with third-parties for cross-context behavioral advertising. We may collect the personal information and sensitive personal information categories listed in the tables below. The tables also list, for each category, our use purposes. A Train Staffing also collects your information consistent with its Privacy Policy. To view our full privacy policy, please visit www.atrainstaffing.com.

We do not retain personal information or sensitive personal information for longer than is reasonably necessary given the purposes disclosed. The precise length of time we retain information is proportionate to achieve the purposes we have disclosed and depends on the type of data, our legitimate business needs and other legal or regulatory rules that may require us to retain information for certain minimum periods. For example, we may be required to retain certain data for the purposes of tax reporting or responding to tax queries. We may also retain data if it might be relevant to any potential litigation or audits. We will also generally retain personal data relating to you where necessary to enable us to provide you or a future employer with a reference.

In determining the appropriate retention period for different types of personal data, we consider the amount, nature and sensitivity of the personal data in question, the potential risk of harm from unauthorized use or disclosure of that personal data, the purposes for which we need to process it and whether we can achieve those purposes by other means, in addition to ensuring that we comply with our legal, regulatory and risk-management obligations, as described above.
